Fay's Speech—Burnett and Wells have a Penchant for Chicken pie

[From the Jacksonville Sentinel Nov 10]

A [illegible] assembled at the Court House in this town [illegible] to hear a speech from Mr Fay on the [illegible] of the last Legislature. He reviewed at length his position on the railroad question in connection with the Senatorial election [illegible] vindicated himself as well as he was able from the attacks of the Herald and the aspersions of Messrs Waldron, Burnett and Wells in their recent letter in that organ. He openly charged Burnett and Wells with an unbecoming desire for chicken pie about the time the election of U S Senator [illegible] and [illegible] in the most [illegible] [illegible] he left the [illegible] an inference for the public that they did partake [illegible] of $2,000 [illegible] New [illegible] to [illegible] but if these charges are not speedily answered by Messrs Burnett and Wells we shall be constrained to believe [illegible] [illegible] both of these gentlemen to all future time and they ought to raise a doubt against the good judgment of those who procured them the nomination in the Democratic party and then urged their election before the people, on the ground of that nomination. Fay chose these men himself and it was for this and similar other reasons that the people's ticket was formed. The people had no confidence in these men from the first, and they [illegible] one of the most manly, independent [illegible] efforts on record, to throw them aside in spite of their party nomination. But Fay fought for them with all his ability and carried them through by the force of mere party discipline, and now he comes back and tells the people of this county that the Representatives whom they elected took bribes to betray the best interests of their constituents. If this does not justify the People's Ticket movement last spring with a vengeance we are certainly very much mistaken. It was to prevent the election of such men to office that the independent men of both parties deserted and formed the People's ticket. Fay and [illegible] [illegible] the Democratic nominations [illegible] [illegible] test of the [illegible] [illegible] and integrity and many an honest voter voted for these same men whom Fay now denounces as most shamefully corrupt. Here is the straight ticket Democracy that we hear so much about just before the June election. They were elected by Democrats who dared not go against a party nomination, and who by their blind and unquestioning obedience to the dictates of a clique, have brought a disgrace both on their party and upon their country.

We had no hand in their election but we feel deeply the humiliation resting upon the people of this county at large in having it publicly proclaimed by as prominent a man as Mr Fay, that their Representatives were bought and sold at the State Capital! We ask all good citizens in the county, who read our columns, to take this home to their minds and reflect whether personal character for integrity and ability is not after all worth more than a party nomination.

The Mismanagement at Metz

[From the New York Herald Nov 9]

General Changarnier's statement of the circumstances of the surrender of Metz, which he made in conversation with a Herald correspondent at Brussels on Saturday leaves no doubt that Bazaine's own vanity has cost France her finest fortress and her best disciplined army. For twenty-eight days after he entered Metz the way of escape lay open and he could have formed a junction with McMahon. The force that he had with him could have overcome any opposition from the army which Steinmetz commanded, and there would have been no Sedan. The secret seems to have been, however, that Bazaine rather preferred being cooped up in Metz. The immense strength of that fortress rendered him apparently secure while his isolation removed him from the range of falling dynasties that were about crushing all around him. With his force of one hundred and fifty thousand men cut off from communication with his superiors he was himself a chief and with the successful defence which he hoped to make even till the end of the war, he expected to be [illegible] the [illegible] of France. He [illegible] [illegible] as General Grant expresses it making sham sorties which really were no sorties at all, merely promenades in force intended to convey to the minds of his soldiery the idea that he was anxious to escape to get into the hell once more, and to take his portion of the disaster that he already saw was threatening France. It was not cowardice. It was vanity—that soldierly vanity which so invariably goes hand in hand with valor but which in this instance sacrificed the last regular army of France to the mere hope of hero worship. Bazaine held Metz after France had dropped all her strongholds into the hands of the enemy, was the praise he hoped to hear according to General Changarnier's view. But God disposed and Bazaine gave up Metz while Paris, all the west and south of France and even the insignificant fortress of Neuf Breisach, on the Rhine frontier in the heart of what is in effect the enemy's country, still contest against the rule of the Prussian. Thus an army of one hundred and fifty thousand men and the strongest fortress of France are sacrificed to the vanity woefully unsatisfied of a marshal of the empire.

It is interesting in view of General Changarnier's statement to recall the view taken by General Grant on the same subject in his conversation recently with our Washington correspondent. General Grant it will be remembered said that he thought Bazaine could have [illegible] out of Metz. "I would have fussed around till I cut my way through [illegible] the conqueror off [illegible]." He thought that Bazaine should have kept himself from being bottled up in Metz at all but even after getting in with the fine army under his command he should have fought his way out again. General Changarnier's statement now fully explains why Bazaine did not cut his way out and upholds the plain strategic view which General Grant three thousand miles away with his clear experienced military head took of the mismanagement of Metz.

The Situation in France

[From the New York Times Nov 9]

It is impossible to read the conflicting accounts which reach us respecting the late negotiations for an armistice without feeling that there is something behind to which we want a key in order that we may understand. Why should the Republican members of the Provisional Government have [illegible] [illegible] agreeing to the proposed armistice [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] and why should a minority of one have [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the rest of the [illegible]. Why again should King William have relented [illegible] in his declaration [illegible] [illegible] and have put off for a fortnight what was [illegible] [illegible] eight days ago. It is hard to see what better [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] this [illegible]. Has [illegible] view of Paris from Versailles [illegible] upon the [illegible] the Prussian King [illegible] [illegible] clemency which his previous acquaintance with it failed to excite. It is at this moment the [illegible] [illegible] hopelessly [illegible] and divided into three or four political parties. The nation cannot in any intelligible way make its voice heard and even had it the opportunity it is questionable whether it is sufficiently resolved about the future to give a very clear or unhesitating response. Thus, though the Republic is in actual existence it would be a mistake to accept the failure of the late negotiations as a necessary acquiescence in the will of the people. For the present, France is nearly as [illegible] held by personal [illegible] [illegible] under the Empire only the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the plans of each are fully known to the others.

Bazaine has been accused of [illegible] patriotism to selfish ambition. With the Republic he had nothing in common. He played his [illegible] and to give his party [illegible] Will [illegible] [illegible] the chance of securing a [illegible] with the further inducement probably of a [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]. Gen. Trochu is both as a man and a soldier of a very different stamp from the Marshal of Mexican fame. But it is exceedingly questionable whether he has in his heart that the Republic is the best thing for France. It would be [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of such a man engaging in a discreditable intrigue, but it would involve no disparagement to him with the [illegible] [illegible] that an Orleanist [illegible] is the only event that would bring peace and repose to his distracted country. He may like other friends of the family of Louis Philippe believe that the [illegible] of France might be brought to prefer the rule of the Count of Paris to that of a Republic. The latter has as yet done nothing which has very obviously served to repair the disasters of the past. Gen. Trochu's late remarkable address bears on the face of it a strong conviction that its author had matured plans on which he confidently reckoned for ultimate success. In standing out from his colleagues on the question of the armistice, the Governor of Paris shows a disposition to make his policy emphatically his own and so to be personally identified with either its success or failure. That his ambition tends exclusively to his own aggrandizement we cannot believe. That he aims at success against the enemies of his country partly in order to enact the part of Monk to another Charles is far from improbable. We can scarcely doubt that Prussia would give better terms to a monarchy in France than to the existing Republic. She cannot help considering the latter as a very dangerous neighbor to the impulsive Democracy of South Germany, and would all protestations to the contrary notwithstanding, be perfectly willing to assist in its downfall. Meanwhile it is obvious that Gen. Trochu has the confidence of the armed populace of Paris, and while this may be the very best thing that could happen for the capital it has some appearance of danger for the Republic. The diplomatic movements that underlie the fourteen days postponement of the bombardment will no doubt become apparent ere many days are over, and may possibly reveal some new phase of the plans of those who at the present time control the destinies of France.

Grant and Cox

The following statement touching the withdrawal of Secretary Cox from the Cabinet was put forth on the 10th inst at Washington. It is believed with the concurrence of the President. The President had pointedly refused to allow the Secretary to sign any patent for either party in the McGarrahan claim, and the Secretary in a letter dated August 23d had strongly intimated a purpose to resign unless his views on that subject were carried out. To this letter the President made no reply, thus tacitly refusing to abandon the position he had taken on the question of issuing the patent. The statement alluded to above, after this recital, proceeds with other matters connected with the Secretary's withdrawal. The next subject is

THE INDIAN POLICY

With regard to that part of Mr Cox's last letter which seems to imply an interference on the part of somebody with the Indian policy of the Administration, it should be understood that the President had no issue with Mr Cox on that subject, nor did he permit any outside interference. The only thing that could possibly be construed in this way was the President's indorsement on a letter from Senator Chandler of Michigan addressed to him at Long Branch and which was afterward sent to Secretary Cox. This letter recommended in earnest terms the appointment as Indian Agent in Michigan of Mr Brockway a Methodist clergyman in that State, who had successfully labored as a missionary among the Indians. He had already served as such agent and had been superseded when the Indian agencies had been put in charge of military officers. The President's indorsement on this letter was to the effect that the person recommended by Senator Chandler might be appointed, as it would not change the policy which had been adopted in regard to appointments for that branch of the service. The President added at the same time that he was anxious to meet the wishes of Senator Howard who concurred in Senator Chandler's request. The indorsement about the appointment was merely of an advisory character.

ORIGIN OF THE INDIAN POLICY

It is generally known to the country that President Grant is the author of the policy now being pursued by the Government toward the Indians, and the people may rely upon the fact that no departure will be made from that policy so long as he is President, no matter what changes may take place in the Cabinet.

THE CIVIL SERVICE

With regard to the reforms in the civil service allusion to which is made in the last letter to Mr Cox, it is well understood here and elsewhere by all who have anything to do with the Executive Department of the Government that since the inauguration of President Grant's Administration particular attention has been given to this matter. The President himself, with every member of his Cabinet have without any formal parade or show, made it a condition that no person shall receive an office without undergoing an examination, the object of which is to ascertain first his fitness for the place, and second his character for fidelity and integrity. As a matter of course, preference is given to persons who are known to entertain the same political views as the President and the members of his Administration. But this has in no instance, so far as is known, been allowed to override the other necessary qualifications for office.

OBJECT OF THE STATEMENT

The general misunderstanding which seems to exist with regard to the causes which led to the retirement of Mr Cox from the Cabinet seems to call for this statement of facts.

The Petersburg [illegible] [illegible] is a certain [illegible] in its [illegible] which comes forth thus

Now people are one thing, [illegible] [illegible] are another and Virginia produces [illegible]. You can find men and women [illegible] [illegible]. But hardly except in Virginia [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] helping one another and with [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Virginia.

The Gold Hill News does not concede the election of Kendall Democratic candidate for Congress over the silver-tongued Tom Fitch and bases its hopes on the fact that the United States authorities are now running the boundary line between Utah Territory and the State of Nevada. Pioche City gave Kendall [illegible] majority over Fitch, and it is so near the boundary line that the oldest Piocher does not know whether he lives in Utah or Nevada. [illegible] Pioche City is in the territory of Brigham Young the [illegible] majority is lost to Kendall, and Fitch is still Nevada's Representative and possibly other State officers on the Republican ticket are elected.

F Roohen of Shasta county who recently found a $3 000 nugget in his claim has also found a large black bear and two California lions in traps specially prepared for their capture.

Attitude of Austria

LONDON, Nov 23—A telegram dated Vienna November 2[illegible] referring to Austria's reply [illegible] supposed to have been prompted by England says Russia's wishes relative to the Black Sea might have been put forward through diplomatic channels and possibly accepted by the Great Powers concerned but the arbitrary expression of her will calls for the gravest resistance from all parties.

Russia Conciliatory

LONDON, Nov [illegible]—[illegible] [illegible] answer to Granville left on Monday by special messenger. It was not communicated to the British Ambassador at St Petersburg but his dispatches [illegible] that the note is conciliatory. It is believed at the Foreign Office that Gortschakoff, while withholding precise information from Sir A Buchanan [illegible] [illegible] him to report favorably to London regarding the disposition of Russia.

The English Ambassador at Prussia's Headquarters

VERSAILLES, Nov [illegible]—A dispatch from the Tribune's special correspondent at Versailles says Russell has been received with the greatest cordiality and will have an opportunity of disclosing his English views under the most favorable circumstances. Official information is to the same effect.

A special correspondent of the Tribune at Vienna telegraphs to-day that intelligence has been received that a most conciliatory answer has been sent to England by Gortschakoff.

There is a marked change in the tone of the English Foreign Office since last week when Granville's answer was first published. The fear was lest public opinion should not support the protest involving a possible recourse to war. The English press was so unanimous that it is officially said to have had an unbounded effect on Gortschakoff and that now a peaceful solution is looked for. Apprehension is also officially expressed lest a war feeling might be aroused that might be difficult to allay.

NEW YORK, Nov 22—The Herald's London cable special says Downing Street believes Russia will submit her claim to a congress after the present war.

Military Operations

BERLIN, Nov 23—According to a letter from Versailles incessant exertions are directed to the formation of a second line of investment to cover the operations of the inner line.

The strategy of General Daurelles is understood at Versailles, and has been met with a counter movement with the center at Orleans. Daurelles has extended his lines both north and south, intending to enclose the Germans on both flanks. The latter have executed a similar movement falling back at the same time toward Paris. General Daurelles' line is now said to extend from Le Mans through Vendome, Orleans and Bourges to Nevers. His main body rests along this line while it is feared a large section of his force has passed north toward Evreux. His line also extends from Orleans to Augerville, and in a triangle where Vendome, Orleans and Augerville form points. The German line extends from Chateau Neuf through Chartres and Etampes to Fontainbleau.

Garibaldi Again.

LONDON, Nov 2[illegible]—A Tribune correspondent at Garibaldi's headquarters at Autun the 18th says the reported quarrel between Garibaldi and the Franc Tireurs is utterly unfounded. Large numbers of the latter throng headquarters, asking to be placed under the General's command. From Marseilles and the departments of Jura and Saone et Loire they come faster than equipments can be supplied.

German Politics.

LONDON, Nov 22—A special from Berlin to-day says the treaty with the South German States Baden and Hesse, for the establishment of a German Bund was signed on the 15th inst. It adopts the North German Constitution and the protocol makes the following stipulations. Constitution to go into effect on January 1st, 1871 with the introduction of a common military budget. The transfer of postal and telegraphic service in Baden to the Bund to be postponed to the 1st of January 1872. Baden and Hesse are in no way responsible for the recent loan of the existing Bund. Laws concerning the press and public meetings will be placed within the jurisdiction of the Bund. Hesse will have two more votes in the Bund, and Baden three making forty-eight in all. On questions affecting only particular States three votes only are taken. A declaration of war can only be made with the assent of the Council. Southern Hesse is to return six members and Baden fourteen to the German Diet. It will be necessary to have a majority of three-fourths and not two-thirds as heretofore.

THURSDAY MORNING NOV 24 1870

Thanksgiving

It is impossible to say anything new about the great and now national festival that will be variously observed to-day from Maine to Oregon and from the Lakes to the Gulf. Thanksgiving was originally a Yankee institution but like many institutions having the same origin it has gradually commended itself to the good sense of all Americans and is now observed more or less heartily by all who are not too unsocial to enjoy an annual reunion of families around the festive board or too selfish to experience the sentiment of gratitude or too destitute of religious faith to believe in the existence of an all-controlling and always kind Providence

As a people we have fresh cause for gratitude It is certainly no slight matter that the whole land has been saved from the ravages of pestilence during the past year We have not only not been afflicted by war civil or foreign, but the ugly sores left by our late terrible contest have been rapidly healing up Reconstruction has accomplished its perfect work Not a vestige of the institution which at all events furnished the provocation for the war remains to be uprooted The doctrine of All rights for All is accepted by everybody, save perhaps a small fraction or faction who can do us no harm

While the peoples of the Old World have suffered, directly or indirectly from the evils of a terribly destructive war we have enjoyed unbroken peace within all our borders even the Indians have been withheld from their threatened hostilities on the Plains Order security to life, peaceful relations between lately warring sections bountiful crops progress in all the peaceful arts freedom from any extended ravages of pestilence the diminution of our national debt the prosperity of all our industrial interests—these are among the topics on which our pulpit orators may easily and eloquently discourse on this thanksgiving day

President Grant and the McGarrahan Claim

As so much has been said respecting the action of President Grant touching the McGarrahan land claim, the letter of the President to Secretary Cox regarding that claim will command general interest It is as follows:

LONG BRANCH N J, Aug 22 1870

Hon J. D. Cox, Secretary of the Interior—Dear Sir I understand that you have appointed one day this week to hear arguments in the McGarrahan case. That is well enough, because if Congress should fail to settle that case, we may have it to do, and the sooner we know the points of it the better However, as the matter had been taken in hand by Congress before the incoming of this Administration, and as so much fraud is charged and believed to exist on both sides, I am not willing that my name should be signed to a patent for either party until Congress has either decided or declared their inability to do so I wish you would say to Mr White, Secretary for Signing Patents, not to put my name to that one, except on special orders from me through you He must not take orders from Mr Nelson in the matter I have grown suspicious of Mr Nelson, and will tell you why when I go to Washington next. Yours, truly, U S GRANT

Who can read this letter and consider the facts which it recites without deciding at once that the President acted properly in the matter? Congress had taken hold of the subject before he came into office, and he was unwilling to sign any patent for either party until Congress had disposed of the case In other words, he declined to step in and decide the case on his own responsibility, taking out of the hands of Congress a subject which that body had begun to investigate before he became President, with a view of settling it He wished Congress to go on with the investigation and if possible lay bare the frauds which were charged on both sides and believed by many to exist That is the purport of his letter, and this is the whole record of his action in respect to the McGarrahan claim General Grant, as the Executive says the Washington Chronicle simply interposed the Executive authority until Congress should finally decide the case He did not belong to either of the parties He doubtless believed that ours was eminently a government of Republican co-operation, that as the Executive he could not assume to set himself above Congress, and that the moment he did so he violated his oath of office

By the Book

The Herald always "speaks by the book of course it does Not long ago it was one of McGarrahan's organs McGarrahan was a poor and worthy man whose lawful possessions had been seized by an overgrown greedy and corrupt corporation known as the New Idria Mining Company Senator Williams, as Chairman of the Senate Committee on Private Land Claims had reported against McGarrahan, and of course there could be no other inference than that he was bribed by the aforenamed thieving corporation to ruin poor McGarrahan, honest, harmless, deserving McGarrahan Thus, "by the book" spoke the Herald a few months ago And now, "speaking by the book" again it assures us that the McGarrahan claim is an atrocious swindle, that it has been tainted from its inception and through every stage of its progress with corruption and fraud that McGarrahan is an infamous trespasser on the rights of that worthy and exemplary corporation known as the New Idria Mining Company that he has bribed President Grant to assist him in carrying his claim through and in swindling to an untold extent the New Idria Company, pure, unselfish, guileless New Idria It is indeed a great matter to "speak by the book. The Herald has a way of doing it that is so very consistent and conclusive"

Good Doctrine and Sound Sense

The causes which led to the resignation of Secretary Cox the pretensions of the friends of that official that he was sacrificed because of his honesty and of his praiseworthy desire to reform a corrupt civil service and the notion which some people seem to entertain that it is the duty of the President to make no difference in his dealings with his political friends and political foes are the subject of a capital article in the Washington Chronicle from which we take the following liberal extract

It is quite time for the Republican party to realize that General Grant intends to rely on his friends rather than his foes Mr Cox, while Secretary of the Interior was captivated by the superfine idea which his friend Andrew Johnson constantly rejected viz that under the glittering title of the "civil service" an administration could be better helped by its enemies than its friends Hence, after failing to get into a quarrel with the President on the McGarrahan claim he tries to shield himself behind excessive devotion to what he calls the "civil service" Now let us look this part of the subject directly in the face With the exception of the Patent and Land Offices, where men of scientific and legal attainments are required, every department of General Grant's administration is open to the competition of all citizens who are honest and capable but even then every candidate passes a most thorough preliminary examination A Cabinet Minister of President Grant however keeping these precepts in view should discriminate between the friends and the foes of his chief should assist the [illegible] against the false and disloyal [illegible] upon the idea that an organization in a country where great parties control governments and make Presidents which does not protect its supporters and fight its adversaries, does not deserve the confidence of the one or the respect of the other The party that does not stand by its friends does not deserve friends and the assumption under his civil service idea that perfect qualifications cannot be found in the Republican rank and that men of opposite [illegible] to the Administration are [illegible] of the intelligent Republicans of the nation If the Bourbon Democracy are restored to power [illegible] Secretary Cox's [illegible] civil service humbug will take good care to return to their [illegible] practices They at least will regard their friends and punish their foes If the Republican party does not give up this sickly sentimentality in favor of what its devotees prefer to [illegible] essential integrity in office they will meet deserved contempt and defeat

[illegible] this phase of the discussion is the question whether men in office here in Washington and elsewhere should contribute to the success of the party that keeps them in office This is a very simple question and very easily answered Every party since such things as parties have been known in our experience has practiced upon this idea and will practice upon it to the end of civilization Hundreds of thousands of citizens who do not hold place freely contribute to support their respective organizations Should we acknowledge the dogma that the moment a citizen gets into office he should decline to meet the obligations voluntarily assumed before he got into it? Do these men cease to care for the party that gives them place the moment the party takes care of them? The unpaid citizens outside of well paid offices, equally contribute to the support of General Grant's Administration, while the well paid officials inside are encouraged to refuse to support it Nearly half a million of [illegible] who support the Republican party in their different associations would be affronted if they were not called upon to pay their small tribute to the organization of which they are so proud Shall the men in Washington and elsewhere, with their comparatively enormous compensation, be excused from the same obligation through the interference of casuists like Jacob D Cox? There is a mawkish and miserable susceptibility on this subject which only needs to be discussed in the light of common sense to make it as ridiculous as it deserves We do not propose to borrow anything from the practice of the Democratic party but the success of that party until it became the slave of slavery consisted in nothing so much as that no man not in harmony with the party could remain in office under it We notice that the Democratic papers are highly enamored of the neutrality of ex-Secretary Cox and yet doubtless they are laughing at him in their sleeves, because all know that the moment the Democrats resume power they will begin the most eager recognition of their friends and the most remorseless proscription of their enemies We have a distinct recollection of the manner in which funds were raised for elections in the olden times and of the power that was conferred upon the Christopher Columbus who discovered a trembling Whig in any of the departments under a Democratic Administration Let the Republican party of the present day ponder upon the example

After all, we desire to return our thanks to ex-Secretary Cox for his demonstration It will, we trust, serve to teach our leaders that there is only one way to conduct a great canvass, or maintain a great cause, and that is by fidelity to friends and opposition to foes All other sentiments however plausible, are simply inoperative Let the motto of the Republican party be, first, no man should hold office unless he is competent to fill it, and then in selecting the person to fill that office he should be a Republican, a Radical, tried and true And when the Republican party cannot find material of this sort within its own ranks, it should go into the courts and confess itself a bankrupt and an incapable

The infamous Sixth Ward of New York City has heretofore been the paradise of Democratic repeaters In 1868 the vote in that Ward was 5 401, and the Democratic majority was 4,254 In 1869, when no political issue was at stake to call out the strength of the parties, the total vote of the Ward was 6,274 and the Democratic majority was 5 202 This year the repeaters were throttled by the United States authorities and the vote of the Ward fell to 3,659 but little more than half the vote of former years One district in the Sixth Ward which last year gave a vote of 934 on a total population of 870, only cast on the 8th 291 votes These results demonstrated the efficiency of the law of Congress, and prove beyond all question that the most shameless frauds have heretofore been practiced by the Democratic party in New York City

From the Statesman Agent Lafollette writes from the Grand Ronde Agency that two of the Indians there have had the small pox and one of them had died He speaks of the necessity of efficient steps being taken to prevent the spread of the disease says he is sending the Indians all off to the mountains, and recommends that all those absent from the reservation be immediately sent home, when he will also have them sent to the mountains and keep them out of the way until the disease is eradicated

The Statesman learns that Judge Boise has adjourned the Circuit Court for Polk county which was to have been held this week, owing to the presentation of a petition, numerously signed by citizens of Dallas and other parts of the county who represented that such a step was necessary to avoid the spread of small pox in that county The Judge considered the subject of too much importance to neglect and court stands adjourned there until the first Monday in January next It was stated there that five deaths had occurred from small pox in Polk county

Highway Robbers Suddenly Overtaken —Between eleven and twelve o'clock Tuesday night, a man named J S Frazer, who resides in the upper part of the city was knocked down and robbed of a valuable coat Within an hour or two the three men engaged in the robbery were arrested and in the county jail before 12 o'clock yesterday they were indicted for robbery by the grand jury and before the Court adjourned they were arraigned and the preliminaries for their trial were arranged This may be called a neat and quick job The particulars are about as follows Mr Frazer started to go home about 11 o'clock Tuesday night a man with whom he had been at a saloon offered to see him safe home on the way Frazer became suspicious of his companion and wishing to get rid of him said that he would go the remainder of the way home alone; at this the fellow struck him in the face with a brick knocking him down two other men who had come by a different route then crossed the street and joined the assaulting party, the three proceeded to go through Frazer's pockets, finding no money [illegible] they then stripped off a new coat he was wearing and decamped Frazer got up and went for a policeman Finding Mr Brannan he and the officer visited several of the saloons and finally found the three men together one of them having the stolen coat on. By this time Frazer and Brannan had been joined by policeman Hickey the latter remaining at the door of the saloon Mr Brannan arrested the men one at a time turning them over to Hickey and Frazer at the door, and within two hours from the commission of the robbery, all three of the perpetrators were securely locked up in jail. And in less than twelve hours they were all three indicted for their crime. This kind of prompt work if followed up, would soon rid our city of the swarms of robbers, garroters, sneak thieves and scoundrels of all grades who now infest it.

Business Notice —The famous salmon fishery originally owned by Hapgood, Hume & Co—lately owned by Hume & Cook—has been repurchased by the old firm, and the business will be carried on under the old style of Hapgood Hume & Co. Mr Hapgood of the firm, claims to have been the first packer of salmon for the market on this coast The company have invested, or will have the present season, about $50,000, and they expect to put up not less than half a million cans of salmon during the year 1871 The reputation of the preserves of this fishery is very high in all the markets of the world where they have been sent and they have been very widely scattered

House of Correction Needed.—At various times within the last two or three years this paper has suggested and urged the propriety of the establishment by the city of a House of Correction for juvenile offenders. The Council has been very slow to see the necessity for such an institution, and others who have a knowledge of such necessity have failed to urge the matter upon the city Fathers. We are pleased to see, now that the [illegible] has also taken the matter up and that Judge Lewis of the [illegible] Court, formerly a member of the Council, is in favor of immediate action in this matter. In a conversation which we had with him a day or two since he freely [illegible] that he never [illegible] the facts as he [illegible] former suggestions were made. He [illegible] that there possibly could be [illegible] juvenile thieves and vagabond boys as he [illegible] during the short time he has been [illegible]. It is an undeniable fact that there is an appalling proportion of bad boys [illegible], some of them whose other have no parents, or whose parents are either ignorant or unable to control them. At all hours, by night, bands of these boys may be roaming about the city doing mischief of [illegible] and frequently engaging in misdemeanors and crimes which would startle their parents if they should learn of them. In some instances they are regularly organized in imitation of older criminals and carry on their depredations with much ingenuity and system. The Police [illegible] of all this and do what they can to break them up and frighten the offenders out of their ways, but the boys soon learn that they have little danger to apprehend. When a Policeman comes upon their gangs they scatter in all directions, and they usually all get away, but if one is caught the others generally manage to keep out of trouble. When one of them is arrested it is repugnant to human feeling to sentence him to jail, like an old and hardened offender. The Judge is often forced to debate with himself what to do with such a prisoner. Usually, however, he decides to give him a grave and [illegible] lecture and let him go, as a course less likely to harden him in crime than imprisonment. Now all this trouble would be avoided and a salutary effect would be produced upon them if there were a House of Correction to which offenders could be sent. There need be no difficulty about the matter as concerns the [illegible] institution. Let there be a place purchased or leased, a house built and [illegible] placed in charge of some competent [illegible]. Let the grounds be properly fenced to prevent escape, and be prepared for [illegible]. Then all boys sent to the place [illegible] daily lessons calculated to improve their intelligence and their moral natures [illegible] be required to labor a certain portion [illegible] and permitted to engage in proper [illegible] not only gardening, but other sources of [illegible] would be profitably engaged in so that [illegible] fairly under way the institution could [illegible] or quite self sustaining. But [illegible] it should cost a few hundred dollars [illegible], would it not be cheaper and better than to allow these boys to grow up into criminals [illegible] upon society and to heavily tax our [illegible] in the way of criminal trials and punishments? Let this and the question of human [illegible] early consideration of the Council.

Robbers Suddenly Overtaken.—[illegible] and twelve o'clock Tuesday night [illegible] J S Frazer, who resides in the [illegible] the city, was knocked down and [illegible] valuable coat. Within an hour or [illegible] men engaged in the robbery were [illegible] in the county jail before 12 o'clock [illegible] they were indicted for robbery by the [illegible] and before the Court adjourned they [illegible], and the preliminaries for their [illegible] arranged. This may be called a neat [illegible]. The particulars are about as follows: [illegible] Frazer started to go home about 11 [illegible] Tuesday night, a man with whom he had [illegible] offered to see him safe home on [illegible] became suspicious of his companion and wishing to get rid of him said that [illegible] the remainder of the way home [illegible] the fellow struck him in the face, knocking him down; two other men [illegible] by a different route then crossed [illegible] and joined the assaulting party, the [illegible] to go through Frazer's pockets [illegible] money, however, they then stripped [illegible] what he was wearing and decamped. [illegible] and went for a policeman. Finding [illegible] Brannan, he and the officer visited several saloons and finally found the three [illegible], one of them having the stolen coat. [illegible] this time Frazer and Brannan had been [illegible] Hickey, the latter remaining [illegible] the saloon. Mr Brannan arrested [illegible] at a time, turning them over to [illegible] Fitzer at the door, and within two [illegible] the commission of the robbery, all the perpetrators were securely locked up [illegible] in less than twelve hours they were [illegible] for their crime. This kind of [illegible], if followed up, would soon rid our [illegible] of robbers, garroters, sneak [illegible] scoundrels of all grades who now in [illegible]

[illegible] Notice.—The famous salmon fishery owned by Hapgood, Hume & Co.—[illegible] by Hume & Cook—has been repurchased by the old firm, and the business will be [illegible] the old style of Hapgood, Hume [illegible]. Hapgood, of the firm, claims to have [illegible] packer of salmon for the market. [illegible] The company have invested, or [illegible] present season, about $50 000, and [illegible] put up not less than half a million [illegible] during the year 1871. The reputation [illegible] preserves of this fishery is very [illegible] the markets of the world where they [illegible], and they have been very widely [illegible]

Thanksgiving Services.—There will be services at half past ten A. M. at St Stephen's chapel, corner of Madison and [illegible]. Seats free.

[illegible] church, corner of Yamhill and [illegible], will be open for services at 11 A M [illegible] by Rev T L Eliot.

[illegible] Schwab will conduct services at the [illegible] Beth Israel at 10 o'clock A M.

[illegible]—From late files of the Victoria Colonist [illegible] that the dramatic season played by [illegible] troupe at that city was not pecuniarily [illegible]. We learn through private sources [illegible] Leo Hudson has left the company and [illegible] the Sound. The Birds are also out [illegible] Melville, the Pixley sisters and [illegible] trying to run the Theater Royal.

[illegible]—Judge Lewis' new rule is not to [illegible] convicted offenders for fine and costs [illegible] the fine about equal to the usual fine [illegible], and as there are no fees paid to officers [illegible] will be charged upon the docket. [illegible] this statement lest our item of yesterday [illegible] misunderstood.

For the Poor.—We understand that at the Thanksgiving services this morning at the [illegible] Church, a collection will be taken for the poor of the city. A most worthy purpose. We suggest to the worshippers that they [illegible] forget to take some coin with them when they go to church.

Paper Will Next Thanksgiving.—[illegible] will be no paper issued from this office to-morrow morning. The telegraph announces that dispatches will be sent to-day so that our [illegible] will not lose much by the usual holiday.

School Closed.—Owing to the illness of [illegible] the school of Abav [illegible] temporarily. Notice will be given [illegible] shall have recovered of the reopening of [illegible]

LOCAL BREVITIES.

AMUSEMENTS

[illegible] Theater.—There was another good house last evening to see The Lonely Man of the Ocean. The play was put on the stage with several very noticeable improvements upon the preceding evening, and everything went like clockwork. All the commendation and more too bestowed upon the several characters in the first performance is due them for their treatment of their parts last evening.

Matinee.—There will be a grand holiday matinee this afternoon at 2 o'clock, at which The Lonely Man of the Ocean will be played.

This Evening.—The same drama with the very laughable farce of The Artful Dodger.

Trial for Robbery.—The trial of Foster and Hackney, indicted for robbery, has been set for Friday.

Post Office To Day.—The Postoffice will be closed to day except from 3 to 5 P M.

RUSSIA

HOW THE CZAR LOOKS—WHAT THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF MOSCOW THINKS OF AMERICA

We have received from our special correspondent at St Petersburg a long descriptive letter of that city and its surroundings Our space will not permit its publication We give, however the following extracts

The Crown Prince or "Tsesarevitch" as he is called by the Russians was with his father in the first carriage They drove into the large central building, and presently appeared on the balcony in front At a distance of forty yards I had a good view of the Emperor Alexander Nicolaevitch has changed considerably since the bright June afternoon when he was shot at by Berezouski, in the Bois de Boulogne I saw him then and the Sunday before at Versailles and thought him, as his pictures had led me to believe, a handsome and imposing looking man. Three years and a month or two had wrought a change. He came to the edge of the balcony, and stood there for some moments smoking a cigarette and looking down the course He is tall and straight as ever, but he has lost his bright pleasant expression His whiskers and mustache have grown quite silvery his complexion is quite sallow, and the uneasy I had almost said troubled, look of his eyes, and nervous movement of the mouth and nostrils, give the appearance of a man unhappy and out of health The Tsesarevitch, or Crown Prince, is tall and strongly built, but his countenance is dull and heavy, and expressive of a bitter but a strong will

At a concert at Troitsk, near Moscow, our correspondent has the following adventure

A little man dressed in a linen jacket and trowsers, came forward and addressed me in French, told me the correct distance Upon his asking me if we were not French, I replied that I was an American Instantly he began to ask innumerable questions about America, touching on almost every subject, from politics to game I am sorry to say that his knowledge was not equal to his curiosity He knew that we had had a great civil war, and that it was somehow connected with the question of slavery Was it not so? Would I explain it? He had an idea that the war was between the whites and the blacks Upon this I lectured him mildly, and tried to give him a notion of the question He listened attentively, throwing in every now and then some exclamation, as I told the story "Ah! Messieurs," he said, "in our time progress marches with gigantic strides. I hate slavery," he added, "but you have it still" Thereupon I told him that slavery was dead Clasping his hands with delight, he shouted, "C' est magnifique!" He could not have been more agreeably surprised had I told him that his dearest foe had been called to Heaven by a thunderbolt from a clear sky. And so we talked for half an hour, and always of America As we entered our carriage, after bidding our new acquaintance adieu, the valet de place who had accompanied us came up to the side and whispered, with an important air, "Do you know that man, Messieurs? C' est le Prince Dolgorouki!" It was the Governor General of Moscow.

The General Result of the Elections.

REPUBLICAN STRENGTH IN THE NEXT CONGRESS—OBSERVATIONS FROM THE CAPITAL—VIEWS ON THE RESULT IN NEW YORK, NEW JERSEY, MISSOURI, AND ELSEWHERE.

A special dispatch from Washington (Nov. 9) to the N. York Times gives this

The result of the elections yesterday has been the only topic of interest and discussion here to-day. Viewed from this stand-point, it seems almost certain that the estimate of the next House of Representatives made by the Times of October 15, by which the Democrats were accorded from eighty-five to ninety members, and the Republicans 155 to 158 is substantially verified The losses and gains indicate that the Democratic strength in the next house will be ninety members, and the Republican 153, or sixty three majority. It may be deemed a very substantial indorsement of the Administration, and will consolidate and strengthen the Republican power in the House very decidedly. The result in New York occasions no very great surprise It was hoped that the Democratic majority in the State might be reduced, so as to show that the redemption of the State would hereafter be easy, but through indifference and lack of organization this has not been done. The vote of New York City is believed here to have been comparatively honest, and the large difference between the vote polled and the registry is attributed to the energetic efforts of the Marshal in the enforcement of the election laws It is believed but for that the Democratic boast of 70,000 majority for Hoffman in the State would have been a reality The operation of the law imperfect as it is, is looked upon with decided satisfaction, and the fact that a Republican victory was not achieved is not deemed any fault of the law Amendments will be proposed to it at the coming session of Congress, and law breakers will find, when it is again brought into requisition, that it is more efficient than ever The victory in New Jersey is the special subject of congratulation The carrying of both branches of the Legislature by the Republicans, it is thought, may result in sending Secretary Robeson to the Senate, to succeed Hon. A. G. Cattell. In Maryland it would seem that the matter of negro suffrage did not set well on the stomachs of many white Republicans, and the expected gain in Congressmen has not taken place, at least not beyond one member From Missouri, the news received here leaves no doubt that the Republicans, liberal and regular have elected most of the Congressmen, and that while Brown finds himself elected Governor, the Democrats have carried the Legislature, which puts him as completely in their power as Senter was in Tennessee. The Schurz Brown party have lost all the city and county offices in St Louis, worth $200,000 per year, and have now but one of two things to do—to make peace with the administration and receive its support, or go completely over to the Democracy.

It is still a matter of doubt as to who has been elected Lieutenant Governor of Nevada, so close is the election By the latest showing, which is indefinite or contrary in some of its figures, the Democrats claim the election of Denver by nineteen votes, while the Republicans claim that Slingerland has been elected with a majority of ten The result can only be determined by an official count

LAND DEPARTMENT

OREGON & CALIFORNIA RAILROAD COMPANY.

SALEM, OREGON, Oct ber 22 1870

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT IS MADE FOR the information of [illegible] interested

First [illegible] granted to the Company all alternate sections of the public lands designated by [illegible] there within a distance of thirty miles on each side of the railroad [illegible] lands to which a pre-emption or homestead claim had attached prior to the withdrawal by Government of the lands conterminous with the first division [illegible] from East Portland to Jefferson, at [illegible] February 18 1870 The second division of located line from Jefferson to a point six miles south of Roseburg May 1870 and from the last named point to the California line 1870

Second—Persons who have valid pre-emption or homestead claims to any tract [illegible] can purchase the same from the Railroad Company at the Government price of $1 25 per acre in greenbacks, and upon very favorable terms if they so desire by filing an abandonment of their claim in the U S Land Office blanks for which will be furnished by the Land Agent of the Company. Such purchase from the Company has these advantages over a purchase from the Government The party can leave the land if necessary, he can sell the land or mortgage it, he is saved the payment of lawyers' or agents' fees, and expenses of witnesses to get the Land Office to prove up his claim, he can get his title perfect in less time and he can buy on credit at a low rate of interest

Third—No sales will be made by the Company until the land is listed over to it by the United States Land Commissioner and Secretary of the Interior

Purchasers are thus assured that the title they obtain is perfect. I R MOORES

TO THE UNFORTUNATE

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea Gleet, stricture Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency etc Skin Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe [illegible] his practice at his Dispensary [illegible] Kearny street, corner of Commercial [illegible] where his patients and those requiring his services [illegible]

The Doctor has spared neither time nor [illegible] facilities [illegible]

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus [illegible] the system Look at their pallid emaciated and fatigued faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents, guardians friends attend to it ones! are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medical measures viz Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes pain in the head, ringing in the ears noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs confused vision, blunted intellect loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society loss of memory, hectic flushes; pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon, stating case symptoms length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR J F GIBBON 623 Kearny street corner Commercial, (Private Entrance on Commercial) San Francisco Post Office Box 1,957

THE RIVERSIDE

HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION!

OF

EAST PORTLAND, OREGON.

I AM NOW PREPARED TO RECEIVE SUBSCRIPTIONS to their Stock

Applications for ONE HUNDRED SHARES was made before the books were opened and a large number of Shares have been taken

The following extracts from the Oregonian and Bulletin will convey a good idea of the plan and workings of the Association the location of the land, etc.

RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.

This association of whose organization we gave an account a few days since, is now ready to dispose of shares As it is with one exception, (the Portland Homestead Association) the pioneer organization of that kind in this city, it may be well enough to state what are its purposes, and the manner in which it is proposed to conduct its operations The purposes of these Homestead Associations are not at all speculative in the ordinary sense of the word They are not organized for the profits of their investment upon the [illegible] real advance in the value of their lands consequent upon the co operation of many individuals—shareholders—and the advance on values of all surrounding lands by reason of the growth of population and demand for room outside of, but still near, the city The Riverside [illegible] Association has a fraction over one hundred and twenty acres of land situated just south of Brooklyn on the east side of the river, the western boundary line being about one mile from the ferry landing at East Portland. The tract lies in one strip along the Willamette river, half a mile in length and another strip along the Oregon and California railroad, half a mile in length, the two strips being connected near the middle by four rows of blocks (with a street between) the whole forming a figure not unlike the letter H. It is divided into 74 blocks, 200 feet square, with streets running at right angles, and 10 fractional lots along the river front. The shares number 600, worth $50 per share. It will be seen that a share thus represents nearly a lot and an undivided interest in the 60 fractional lots. The fractional shares are to be sold off at the [illegible] for the benefit of the Association, [illegible] coming to for the proceeds in proportion to the number of shares held. When the [illegible] taken and the Association [illegible] mine to do it, the choice of lots [illegible] will be put up at auction [illegible] the highest bidder, the proceeds of such sales [illegible] the original price of shares or lots to be divided equally among the whole [illegible] Thus, if a person wants a particular lot and is willing to pay $100 or $500 [illegible] or less as the case may be) he pays it and takes the lot or block as his individual [illegible] premium being divided among the [illegible] of shareholders It will be seen, therefore, that everything is co operative, and all [illegible] tual No man can make a dollar out of [illegible] out also making a dollar for every other shareholder. There is no chance [illegible] the property, by some chance [illegible] far below the first actual cost [illegible] liable to happen in the case of [illegible] tract of land must be judged by [illegible] but considering the steady and [illegible] vance on real estate in the city [illegible] hood, and at East Portland and [illegible] last year or two, it seems hardly [illegible] values to go back.

In the Riverside Association all [illegible] tions seem to have been taken to guard against monopolies of shares. No person is [illegible] buy more than the number of shares [illegible] three blocks, or twenty-four lots, and [illegible] terminating the operations of the A[illegible] restricted in the same manner. The buyers of shares may pay down $50 per share, which will exempt them from all assessments, or they may pay $15 quarterly with an assessment of $5 per share payable with the first [illegible] liable in this latter case to another (and only one other) assessment of $5 per share. Upon the payment of the share in full, with the [illegible] as above, the holder is entitled to his [illegible] and his proportion of all the profits arising from all sources No officer of the Association [illegible] any pay for services except the Secretary, who gets $25 per month; so it will be seen that the expense must be light.

That part of the tract lying along the river is a high plateau, nearly level, about 60 to 80 feet above the water There is no part of the first row of blocks but commands a fine view of Portland and the river for miles up and down stream. That part of the tract lying along the railroad is, every foot of it, of the [illegible] soil and adapted to gardening purposes [illegible] tiful little stream of pure water runs through almost the entire length of this wing of the tract affording the means of irrigation, and power sufficient to supply pure water to every part of the whole tract There is not a waste lot or fractional lot in the entire tract. Under all these advantages it would seem impossible that there should be any chance of loss to shareholders. Within a year each shareholder, if he choose, may get a perfect title to as many lots as his shares may represent, or he may continue his interest undivided, with the Association while the Association may exist.—Oregonian.

THE RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.

We have been led to make these remarks from the fact that the subject of making [illegible] on the skirts of this city and East Portland, is being [illegible] discussed here among all classes, and [illegible]

Riverside just south of East Portland—has already been established The site selected is a tract of land lying a little over a mile south of the ferry [illegible] shaped like the letter H, one side of which [illegible] in length, borders on the river.

From this portion of the homestead, which is elevated but a trifle above the other prong of the H, but is all forty or fifty feet above the river, can be had a fine and extensive view of Portland, East Portland, the shipping and the Willamette river for several miles. The land is very fertile and is partly covered with light fir timber A tract of land just wide enough for two rows of blocks with an avenue between them, connects the two prongs of the H (which I have already been described) with a [illegible] the east [illegible] last tract of land is in a beautiful little valley, which is in no way liable to [illegible] Through this the whole length runs a fine brook, the water of which is as clear as crystal. With a hydraulic ram the Association proposes to have water conveyed through all portions of the homestead.—Daily Bulletin.
